Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

The applicant has provided three different abstracts. Which one is the correct one?

The drawings are objected to because they are not clearly decipherable due to the shading and line thicknesses of all of the drawings. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Throughout ALL of the claims, the applicant recites "doors, window, hatches, or other apertures or openings" which is indefinite and fails to positively recite the applicant's invention. Exactly what is the applicant trying to claim? Claim 2, in its entirety, is not readily understood. Exactly what is meant by "the same is..."? What is meant by "or other"? Claim 3, in its entirety, is not readily understood by the Examiner. What is meant by "the same"? Exactly what is meant by "or in any other way"?

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

As best understood, claims 1-5 are further rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japanese patent No. 4-174185. Japanese patent No. 4-174185 discloses a door assembly (1 and 2) having a locking and releasing mechanism attached to both hinge sides (see figures 2, 3 and 4), a special control bar attached to each hinge to respectively lock each side (see figures 3, 4, and 6), and a control circuit having a sensor and relay for controlling the hinging and latching of each respective side (see figures 1, 5a, 5b, and 7-9) upon activation of the respective handle operation.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Several U.S. patents have been cited with are directed towards sensor systems attached to handles which activate latches and locks per se.
